Quality Assurance

BIG IP's commitment to quality is anchored by a rigorous review methodology and tightly managed global agent network. Each translation we deliver goes through a four-step quality process:

Expertly translated and proofread by experienced patent translators who have advanced degrees.

Independent Grammar and syntax review by an equally qualified and experienced patent translator.

In-country patent attorney review to ensure technical accuracy and adherence to local patent office formatting requirements.

A dedicated project manager carries out a final quality assurance check, then packages and delivers the translation in accordance with client instructions.
